LOGLINE

Eight-year-old Jack and his Dad sit in their 'Rocketshed', a garden shed they've converted into a rocketship. The countdown timer ticks down. Two minutes. Not long to go now.

DIRECTOR STATEMENT

Without giving the game away, my intention with Rocketshed is to try and get people to think what they would do if they were faced with the situation depicted in the film. I've always tended to lean to stories which are bittersweet and Rocketshed is no exception, I feel films which swing from happy to sad in an instant (or visa versa) and take the audience on an emotional rollercoaster just work.

Rocketshed was commissioned by Exeter Phoenix, an arts organisation in the United Kingdom. With their backing and the help of countless others Rocketshed evolved and developed over many months. For filming we constructed a set based around an old shed and decorated it with props including items from previous films crew members had worked on and drawings done by the lead actor and his twin brother. The making of Rocketshed really has been a fantastic adventure.
